

Agriculture & Sustainability Support

We are a national free range & organic egg packer with farms across the country supplying our eggs into national retail. We are Lion Code, RSPCA & BRC Accredited operating to the highest standards of food safety & animal welfare. Due to substantial growth, we are now looking to create a new role within our business based at our packing centre, in Attleborough, Norfolk & with the option of some hybrid working.

Are you a recent graduate seeking a progressive role offering hands on experience in all aspects of in food safety, auditing, producer approval, quality and customer communication? The successful candidate will learn the technical and operational processes required to progress towards a management position.

As part of our tight knit team, you will work with the Head of Technical & our Farms Quality Assurance to help maintain standards & the audit ready status of all farms. You will also help develop farm & packing centre environmental policies, as well as recording & collating sustainability data for customer & industry reporting requirements. You will help monitor farm performance & assist in the collation & completion of Outcome Measurement Data as well as developing relationships & ensuring timely & effective communications between farms & our operations team.

You will also support producers helping ensure they are fully conversant & compliant with all the relevant Defra, Industry & company requirements.

We are looking for someone with strong organisational & communication skills, who is IT literate, proactive, has a flexible attitude and is keen to take on increasing responsibility with the ability to grow within our business. You should also have a genuine interest in agriculture & sustainability.
